

1.3 Scope of Application

This book and the guidelines within it apply to a specific range of academic offerings. The framework is effective immediately upon issuance and applies to all courses delivered via Moodle in the following categories:

- CPD programmes.
- Micro-credential courses.
- Blended and online learning offerings.

The principles outlined here are relevant to all academic and training staff who are involved in the design, delivery, and assessment of these courses. Whether you are a lecturer creating a flipped classroom experience or a programme coordinator reviewing course quality, these guidelines provide the necessary boundaries and best practices for success.
